LOCAL ITEMS.

Old Baldy, covered with snow, presents a pretty sight.

The rains washed a whole field of wheat away for Supervisor J. A. Harrison. The loss is great.

O. M. Aldridge, business manager of the Daily News, spent most of the past week in Sonora, hustling for his paper.

Our new postoffice building on Railroad avenue is now in course of construction. When completed it will be a credit to Nogales.

Thursday at Torres H. Moreno, a brakeman on the Sonora railroad was killed by being run over by an engine. He was well known in Nogales.

The moving pictures at the opera house tonight will be well worth the price of admission. You cannot afford to miss them—if you have the price.

Tuesday a party of eastern capitalists, stockholders in the Promontorio Mining company, drove out to the mines, formerly owned by Mr. L. Ephraim of this city.

W. B. B. Barnett, the veteran freight clerk at the Southern Pacific station, is able to attend to his duties, but says he does not feel like doing "rag time." He has been quite ill.

Jim Flynn, carpenter and building contractor, is back in Nogales after many months spent in California where he worked at his trade. Jim had many pleasant, interesting experiences while away from Nogales, but says he is glad to get home, and is in no hurry to leave.

In this issue of THE BORDER TIDETTE appear articles of incorporation of the Zambona Development Company organized by William Schuckmann, Amos J. Yaeger and William S. Cranz, with a capital stock of $500,000. Nogales, Arizona, is named as the principal place for the transaction of company business.

John Henderson has purchased from Joe Lusignan a one-third interest in La Union mining claims comprising eight pertenencias. La Union is an extension of "El Oro," the gold mines owned by the Coast Line Copper company. They are about 14 miles east of Poza, Sonora. Mr. Henderson also purchased from other parties, 5000 acres of land at the Sonora Copper Queen mines near Caborca, in the Altar district, owned by the Ohio-Mexican Mining company. The land is very valuable.

This evening the Monte Carlo saloon will be open under a new management, Harry Cohn and Harry Walters of Hermosillo, having purchased the business from Assignee Theo. Gebler. Mrs. Modie of the Arizona Hotel has leased the restaurant and will personally have charge of the same. Messrs. Cohn and Walters are experienced saloon men possessed of the happy faculty of making friends. They will cater to the best trade and will take great pains to please everybody who visits their place of business. The restaurant will be first-class in every respect.

The Second Annual Convention of the Arizona Cattle Growers' Association is called to meet in Phoenix, Arizona, Jan. 25th-26th, 1905. The attendance of all engaged in the raising or growing of cattle is earnestly requested. Matters of importance and of interest regarding the cattle industry, are to be brought before the Convention and the larger the attendance, the more beneficial the result of the deliberations and the consequent action. All the railroads will give 1 and 1-5 fare for the round trip from all points in the territory. Each purchaser of a ticket must secure a receipt for same of the regular convention form and before leaving Phoenix present the receipts to the Secretary for endorsement, and such receipts will entitle the holder to return trip tickets at 1-5 regular fare, making the round trip cost 1 and 1-5 regular fare.

City ordinance Nos. 45 and 46 will go into effect January 28.

Don't miss Beatty Bros. moving pictures at the opera house tonight.

Chaplain Chas. Fisk of Wells Fargo has been doing some difficult carpenter work at his home this week.

A S Cox, a cattle man of Cananea, has been a visitor in town several days this week. He made the Montezuma his headquarters.

Hon. Bo. J. Whiteside has gone to Phoenix to attend the opening sessions of the legislature. He will be a member of the "third house."

H. Gordon Gore, the California mine expert, is again in the city after several months spent in Los Angeles with Mrs. G. and the children.

A game of in door base ball will be played in the Armory hall tomorrow afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock sharp. All member of the club are requested to be present.

Last night Mrs. L. J. F. Jaeger of the Montezuma and Mr. Jaeger's mother who is visiting them, came down from Tucson. The elder lady's home is in Colton, California.

The city dads of Nogales, Sonora, continue to push the improvements on their streets. Cement sidewalks are being laid and Railway avenue is being graded and greatly improved.

Yesterday Sheriff Fowler returned from Yuma where he went with Antonio Fierros, sentenced to ten years in the territorial prison for killing Jose Maria Robles. Fierros pled guilty.

Mr. Sherman, a mining man operating in the Magdalena district, east of Inuriis, was a business visitor here Tuesday, returning to Magdalena the same night. Mr. Sherman hails from California.

S. F. Wiles, a prominent Los Angeles mining operator in Sonora, was here a couple of days this week, during the washout. He left Thursday night for the south to visit his mining properties.

County Treasurer Con O'Keefe who is also ex-officio tax collector of Santa Cruz county, is very anxious to have delinquent tax-payers "come in". By so doing they will save that 25 per cent attorney's fees.

This morning Mr. W. S. Cranz, his daughter Emma, and little Annie Massey, were north bound passengers. Mr. Cranz and Emma go to Los Angeles and Miss Annie back to school at Tucson. Miss Emma attends school in Los Angeles.

A. M. Conard, the successful mining man, after six weeks spent in the east on a combined business and pleasure trip, returned home Thursday. He visited his old home near Independence, Missouri, the first time in nearly thirty years, and had a fine time. He also had a good trip financially.

Today the special agents of the Interior Department and United States attorneys are taking evidence, with a view of adjusting the claims of our citizens who were compelled to remove their property from the 60-foot strip on the international line. The claims are just and the government should pay them.

Monday Mr. Willard A. Deane of Chicago, was a stopover visitor in Nogales en route to Magdalena, Sonora, where he expected to remain several days before going to Cerro Prieto to accept the position of resident engineer under General Manager N. C. Banks who is now in Chicago completing arrangements for the 100-ton plant and pipe line that will soon be installed by the company now owning the great Cerro Prieto gold mines thirty miles from Magdalena, formerly owned by the Nogales Mining company and later by the Nogales Copper company of which Colby N. Thomas was general manager. Next week Mr. Banks and family will arrive in Nogales from the east.

The Piano with the Weber tone and the Weber action—the JANNSEN.

J. L. Mix, deputy U. S. collector of customs at Lochiel has been spending a couple of days at headquarters.

The Diamond N. base ball boys intend giving a social hop next Friday evening for the benefit of that organization.

George E. Reynolds, for a number of years successfully engaged in the marble business at Tucson, is now permanently located at El Paso.

George Howard, prominent Redman and founder of the Cactus, is back from a pleasant and profitable visit to Tucson, where he resided before coming to Nogales several years ago.

Julio Galisher, forwarding agent at Magdalena, Sonora, for the Black Mountain mining company, owning the Cerro Prieto gold mines, passed south Wednesday night en route home from the coast. He spent New Year in Los Angeles.

Monday night the Nat Reiss Carnival company returned to the United States from Sonora where they showed at Guaymas and Hermosillo. The management reported a bad business at Hermosillo and worse at Guaymas. From here the Company went to El Paso, Texas.

George Embry, one of the old prospectors of way back in the '70's, when prospectors were mighty scarce in the Santa Rita and Patagonia mountains, was a visitor in Nogales several days last week, attending district court, renewing old acquaintances and making new ones. While here Mr. Embry was piloted around by that old pioneer, genial Billy Powers, of Patagonia, who came to this country when many of the present high peaks hereabouts were holes in the ground—about the time George Clark, Jens Peterson Bill Cranz, F. F. Cranz and Ed. Hill came into the Salero district to prospect and fight Indians on the side. Needless to say Mr. Embry had a nice time and will long pleasantly remember his visit to Nogales.

Monday Dr. Frank J. Toussaint of Milwaukee, who is operating mines in the Arizpe district came up from Sonora to meet his wife who was returning from Milwaukee. The Doctor brought with him a number of the rich, handsome silver specimens from the La Chumata mine in the Arizpe district, the equal of which were doubtless never seen here. Some of the samples will assay 18,000 ounces silver per ton, possibly more. The Doctor is going to give a fine gold watch to the man who comes the nearest to guessing what any of the samples will assay, and the writer believes he will get the watch. The Doctor also says he will deposit a thousand dollars in The First National Bank of Nogales, which he will give to charity if any of the samples of ore cannot be duplicated by anyone who will visit La Chumata mine, which he says produces the richest silver in the republic of Mexico. The result of the guessing contest will be awaited with interest by many persons who think they can guess values in ore. Thursday night Dr. and Mrs. Toussaint and their son left for the mines.

Big Rains

The splendid rains that visited Santa Cruz county this week, while damaging some crops on the river and other low places, will be of incalculable benefit to the farmer, stockraiser and prospector.

Tuesday the arroyo which passes through the city and is used as a dumping place for "everything," ran full and as a result was given such a cleaning it never received before; in fact the whole town was given a much-needed bath which can not help but result in much good. The city dads had made arrangements to have the arroyo and town cleaned and the rain saved the town money and everybody feels better.

The rain was heavy and general; extending as far south as the gulf.

Both north and southbound trains have been delayed on account of washouts, which the railroad people lost no time repairing in order that freight and passenger traffic could be resumed at the earliest possible moment, working a large force of men night and day to accomplish the result.

Their strenuous efforts should be appreciated both by the traveling public and the "powers that be."

Robert Hannah Dead

Thursday morning, January 12th, Mr. Robert Hannah, died at his home in this city, after an illness of two weeks. Bright's disease was the cause of his passing.

Deceased was about 51 years of age and leaves a widow, three daughters—Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Cummings and Miss Dorah, and two sons—Harry and Fred, who have lost a kind and loving husband and father.

For more than a dozen years "Bob" Hannah, as his friends loved to call him, has been in the service of the United States as a customs guard at this port, which position he held at the time of his death. He was one of the very few of Uncle Sam's officers who had the rare good sense to discharge the duties of a very exacting position with extraordinary ability, and as such was not only retained by all administrations, but was loved by all travelers. Our Uncle Sam has lost no servant more faithful to government interests, and even many a man whom he has "held up," will feel genuinely sorry that we have him no more.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the Episcopal church, interment being in the Nogales cemetery.

To the bereaved family we extend heartfelt sympathy.

Given an Escort.

Sunday morning Messrs. John Henderson and William K. McKibben returned from an extended trip to some extensive and valuable mining property beyond Ures, owned by Mr. Henderson and his associates.

They first went to Hermosillo to see General Torres, who treated them royally and furnished them with an armed escort through the Yaqui country to Ures. Coming back the same courtesy was extended the gentlemen, without money and without price. The gentlemen saw no bad Indians and enjoyed the trip.

General Torres told them he did not think there was danger from the Yaquis but advised them to accept an escort which would make their safety a certainty. He said he was always willing to furnish escorts to foreigners traveling through the Yaqui country, for the mere asking, free of charge, and if anyone got hurt they had no one but themselves to blame.

Messrs. Henderson and McKibben are loud in their praise of the treatment accorded them by General Torres and his soldiers.

Old Soldier.

Jim Eastman, foreman for several months at the Old Soldier group of mines on the west side of the Patagonia mountains, is in the city. Mr. Eastman is an experienced mining man; he says the Old Soldier mines are looking good, extensive development having opened up a splendid ledge bearing high grade copper ores carrying gold and silver.

The property is owned by the Chicago & Patagonia Mining company, J. T. Brickwood of Nogales, general manager, and Albert Brickwood of Chicago, superintendent and secretary.

All supplies for the Old Soldier Camp, which is only about ten miles northeast of Nogales, are bought here, our merchants and town being greatly benefited thereby.

Mr. Eastman will not return to the Old Soldier. He and a number of friends own a good thing in Sonora which shortly will receive his personal attention. Jim is general manager of the little company which is in the nature of "a close corporation."

New Mining Company.

A new mining company was organized in Nogales, Sonora, Thursday. The name of the new company is "Compania Minera y San Felipe," the officers of which are John Henderson, president and general manager; W. H. McKibben, vice president; P. Sandoval, secretary and treasurer, and J. H. McKibben, comisario. The gentlemen also organized in Nogales, Arizona, "The San Felipe Mining company" with W. H. McKibben, president; John Henderson, general manager; J. H. McKibben, secretary and treasurer. The company will operate the "Little Johnny" and "Scotty" Mining claims in the Altar district, near Caborca.
